

2017 NCSBA Summer Meeting, July 13-15

Celebrating 100 Years – Educating for the Next 100! July 13th, 14th & 15th

Embassy Suites Convention Center in downtown Winston-Salem, North Carolina

Featured Speakers:

Jon Zawislak

Jon is the apiculture specialist for the University of Arkansas with a strong background in entomology and botany. Extension and beekeeping education are some of his major interests.

Dr. James Wilson

Dr. Wilson is the new faculty apiculturist at Virginia Tech. With an undergraduate degree from NCSU and a PhD from VT, Dr. Wilson has plenty of beekeeping information to share.

Katy C. Evans

Katy was the 2015 recipient of the EAS Foundation for Honey Bee Research Award. This award made possible the research with Dr. Debbie Delaney at the U of Delaware that led to her Master's Thesis. Katy now works with one of Dr. Tarpy's former postdocs, Dr. Margarita Lopez-Urbe at Penn State University.

Dr. David Tarpy

Professor and Extension Apiculturist, Department of Entomology and Plant Pathology, NCSU.

NCSBA Cookbook

A special commemorative cookbook has been completed for the NCSBA's 100th Anniversary! Sales will be held at the Summer Conference in Winston Salem, July 13, 14, and 15th.

All 300 recipes have honey as an ingredient. Award winning recipes are from the NCSBA Summer Conferences, the NC State Fair, and other favorites submitted by members of the Association.

All profits will be donated to the NC Agricultural Foundation and will directly benefit the Apiculture program at NCSU. The price per cookbook is $20.00. Feel free to contact Sandy Carlson
